Machining surface finish chart, comparator, method, degree, Ra, Rz, RMS As for machining to iron and steel castings, the surface finish smooth degree is also an important requirement. The following is the conversion chart is from dandong foundry, for Ra (um), Ra (micro inch), Rz (um), RMS and finish degree in China and USA, including the related finish methods.

Surface finish can then be described by using the roughness average (Ra) parameter. The Ra value is defined as the average value of the departures from its centerline through a prescribed sampling length.
